- The Deep Value Strategy composite, comprised of discretionary accounts with no material investment restrictions, can invest in primarily publically traded domestic equity securities whose market price at time of purchase is at an attractive discount to a company's intrinsic value, normalized earnings and cash-flow power. The Composite will tend to have valuation characteristics that are at a discount to the market value and lower-end of historical ranges. Clients should be aware that low valuation securities involve the possibility that the valuations could remain low for an extended period of time. The composite does not maintain a minimum market value requirement but accounts in the composite will consist of approximately 40-60 holdings.
- Gross and net of fee performance results for the Deep Value Strategy: (a) include the reinvestment of all dividends, and income; and (b) were computed on a trade date (as opposed to a settlement date) basis. New discretionary accounts are eligible to join the composite following the month of inception. "Weighted" performance measures the average performance of all portfolios in the composite weighted by size. The U.S. dollar is the currency used to express performance. Portfolio returns are calculated daily using the Modified Dietz method. Additional information regarding policies for valuing portfolios, calculating and reporting returns are available upon request.
- The "gross" of fees performance figures reflect the day-weighted performance of assets (including cash reserves) managed for the period and do not reflect the deduction of our investment management fees, but do reflect the deduction of trading commissions and withholding taxes. The "net" of fees performance figures reflect the deduction of trading commissions, withholding taxes and a model fee equal to the maximum investment management fee under our fee schedule for Deep Value Strategy separate accounts. The following is our fee schedule for a Deep Value Strategy separate account: 1.00% on all assets under management, the model advisory fee is deducted from gross returns on a monthly pro-rated basis to arrive at the net of fee performance. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.
- The primary index is the S&P 500 Index which represents the large-cap segment of the U.S. equity markets and consists of approximately 500 leading companies in leading industries of the U.S. economy. Criteria evaluated include: market capitalization, financial viability, liquidity, public float, sector representation, and corporate structure. An index constituent must also be considered a U.S. company.
- The dispersion of annual returns (when statistically meaningful and represented) is measured by the standard deviation of asset-weighted portfolio returns represented within the composite for the full calendar year.
- The Deep Value Strategy composite was created July 1, 2016.
